The Class of 1963*

As fall the light autumnal leaves, one still following the other, so in passing do the years of our lives drop from us, one day at a time.

FOREWORD

As the seasons change, so North Adams State College has changed during our four years here. As freshmen, we saw the institution of the new science-mathematics section, the first to attend classes in the Science Building.

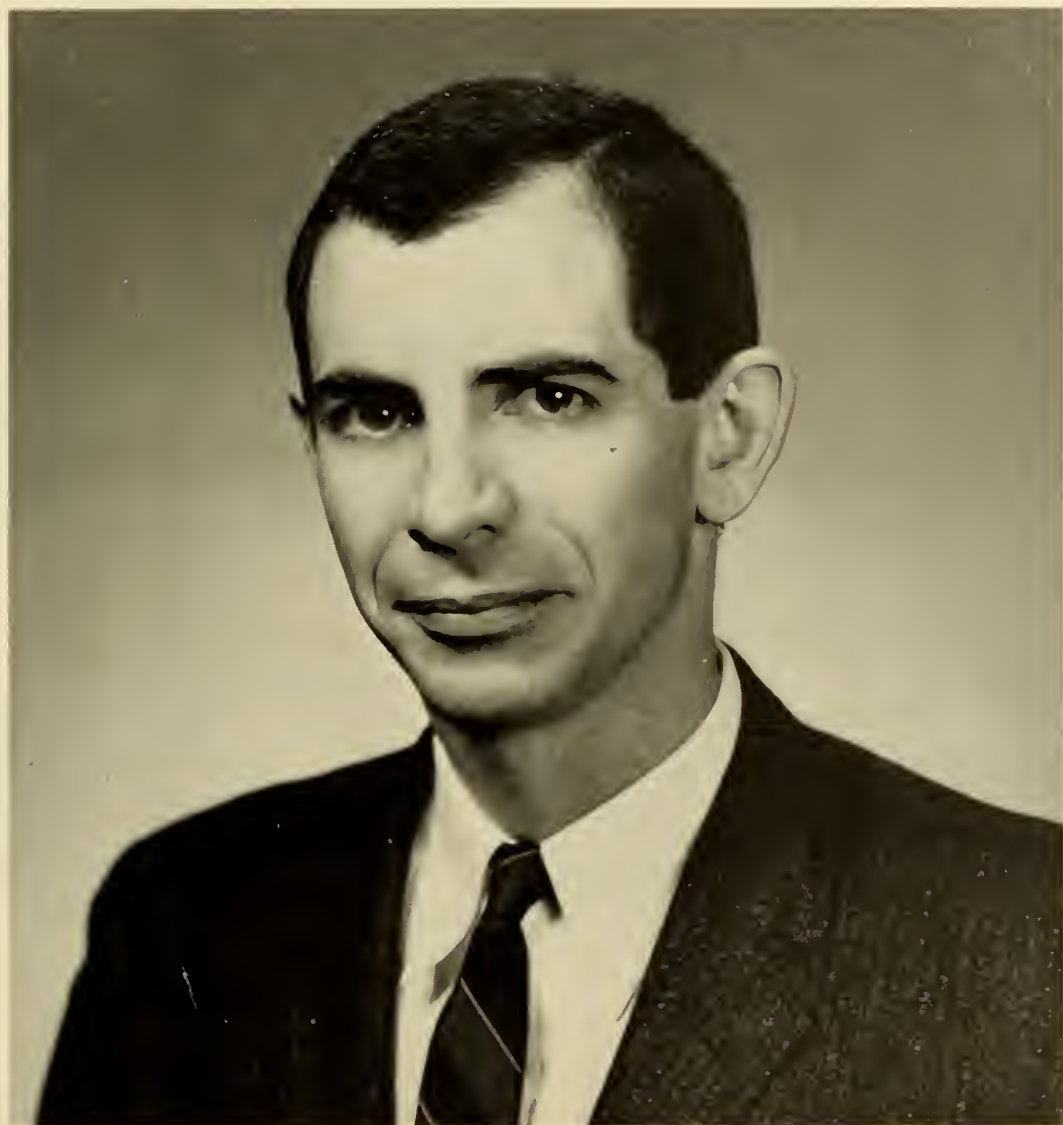

Our name, too, was changed in anticipation of the transition to a liberal arts college—a goal we saw attained in our senior year.

Just as spring follows winter, so still more changes follow for our college. Future classes can look forward to a greatly expanded campus.

We hope the contents of this book will remind you, the graduating class of 1963, of the many experiences shared . . . in passing.

The average college freshman knows little about college life. An experienced, understanding hand is needed to guide him on the perilous quest for knowledge. For the class of 1963, this hand was personified by Dr. Christopher Martin.

Dr. Martin, we dedicate our yearbook to you, and extend to you our heartfelt thanks for being both advisor and friend to the class of 1963.

STATE COLLEGE AT NORTH ADAMS

To the Class of 1963:

Each year recently the College has increased in enrollment, and this year continued the advance. Also, the new program for the A.B. degree with a minor in secondary education was instituted. Our College is expanding, and will expand even more in the next few years both in size and offerings.

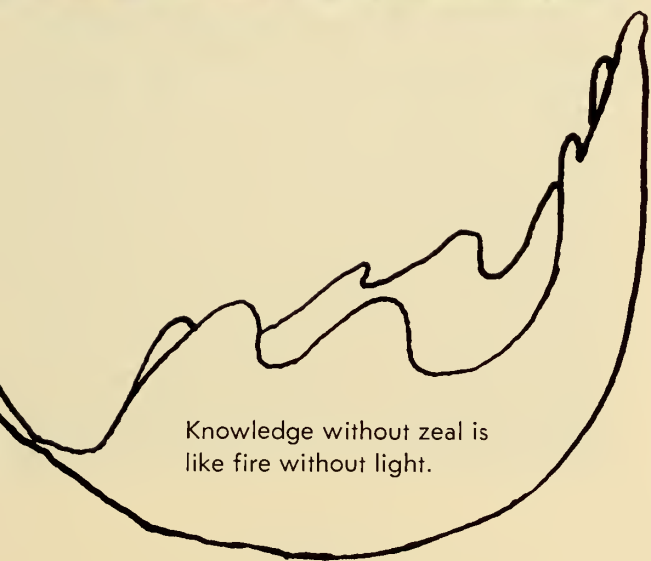

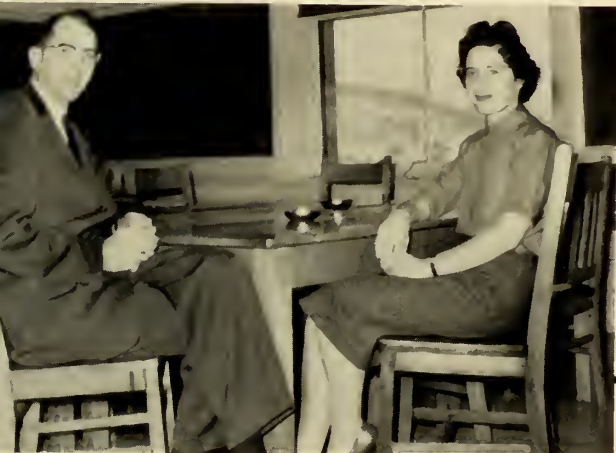

The need for good teachers at all levels is also increasing. You will enter the teaching profession at a most opportune time, and I am confident that you are well prepared for your future work. The College is proud of you, and I trust that you will augment the ranks of your predecessors who have brought renown to our College by their excellence.

I ask God to help you in every way.

Sincerely,

Eugene L. Freeland

MARK HOPKINS TRAINING SCHOOL

Our four years of study at North Adams State College are climaxed by a period of student teaching—a time we as freshmen looked upon with vague feelings. However, when confronted with this new situation, we found we had to face groups of young people whose welfare and education were in part entrusted to us. This called for a focusing of all our energies and attentions on one task—teaching. There was no room for vagueness in either our attitudes or our actions.

A competent staff of training teachers guided us toward the ultimate goal of becoming teachers. They were our critics, helpers, counselors, and our friends as the situation demanded, tireless in their efforts to aid us in our growth as members of the teaching profession.

The real transition from student to teacher was an inner one, we found, as each of us realized the importance of the duty we had to our students and the ideals we had to uphold as educators. This dual duty, however, is not one which is easily lived up to. It is a task we will set before us to accomplish in our careers as educators.

North Adams Takes North Adams Five Contest in Overtime Trims Keene Owls

Walter A. Brown, president of the Boston Celtics and Boston Gardens, joined Greenfield fans to watch two clubs put on a "pro" performance last night as the North Adams State Mohawks took an extra five minute edge out Windham College, 108-103.

Brown, who was honored by the Windham outfit, was thrilled at as he watched what could be described as a future edition of the Boston Celtics and New York Knickerbockers in play on the Greenfield High School court. Frankie Zoltek, the Mohawks co-capt. gave a Cously-like performance in the waning minutes of the overtime period as he stole the ball and dribbled in and out of the five pressing Windham players. Zoltek dribbled between his legs and behind his back to literally amaze the crowd. Frankie also had the honor of dunking the last point of the game, although the final horn had long sounded before.

So jubilant were the Mohawks when the overtime horn sounded, that they swarmed on Zoltek, Joe Spinazola, Jim Archey, Bruce Gallagher and Wayne Goodnow, who were the stalwarts in the overtime period. Coach George Jarck was jubilant too, beginning his joyful jumps, on the second, in the last five seconds of play. But Jarck received the signal from the referee that a violation had been committed and retrieved Zoltek from the shoulders of the triumphant Mohawk fans . . . and Frank, in solitude tossed the final point of the game.

Zoltek Amazing

Zoltek shot an amazing 13 for 21 from the floor to total 33 points which lead the Mohawks. Frank was joined by four other teammates who gathered in double figures. Big Paul Perachi, elbows out, grabbed the ball off the backboards 13 times and shot a respectable 6 for 11 attempts to account for 21 points. Jimmy Archey also co-capt. rivaled his co-capt. teammate, Zoltek, in ball handling. He pressed and grabbed the ball at every opportune moment and dunked in an unbelievable 67 per cent of his shots, eight for 12, to add 16 points to the Mohawks' kitty. Timmy Carroll was even more unbelievable, although restricted by Coach Jarck to first half play, he shot six for seven to tally a total of 16 points. Joe Spinazola showed great form under the boards to grab 11 rebounds.

Nat Hunter, New York City freshman forward for Windham, put on a one man show at times. In his second college performance of his career, Hunter shot a spectacular 18 for 31 to total up the game's high for 41 points. He also showed great skill in rebounding to account for 20 rebounds and assisting his teammates eight times. Tim Varian, Bronx soph, shot 10 for 13 to collect 23 points. He was joined by teammates Jim Krug who hit for 15 points and Don Bradley who netted 13 points.

Both clubs were spectacular in their shooting from the floor. Windham College made 75 attempts at the basket and hit 44 times which figures to be 57 per cent; while the Mohawks made 81 attempts to hit 45 times which is a very good 56 per cent figure. Rebounds made the difference in the game, however, as the Mohawks cleared the boards 53 times as compared to 35 for Windham.

The game was nip and tuck all the way. Paul Perachi dunked a last second basket to put the Mohawks ahead at half time, 55-54. The greatest spread was 10 points enjoyed by each club at times, but the lead was soon erased and the other club went ahead for a moment or two. The see-saw battle ended in a 96-96 tie at the end of the regulation 40 minutes of play. The final, in overtime play, NASC 108, Windham 103.

There is one thing for certain, this was a thrilling, outstanding game and the North Adams fans are in for another thrill when Windham invades the Mohawks early in January.

Invade Vermont

The Mohawks have a weekend trip to Vermont as they play a game with the Vermont State College at Lyndon at 8 p. m. Friday and travel to the Vermont State College at Johnson Saturday night.

North Adams State Mohawks took their shooting eyes and running shoes on the bus to Keene, N.H. last night and trimmed the Keene State College Owls, 98-61 in what was strictly a runaway.

The game was described as "ragged" played on an undersized gym but this didn't put any handicap on Coach George Jarck's forces. It was the second win for North Adams over Keene this season the Mohawks winning here on Dec. 10, 66-49.

North Adams boosted its New England Conference mark to 9-1 and its overall record to 11-1. The next game is at home this Saturday night with Willimantic and then there is a full week's rest for mid-year examinations before Westfield comes to Hoosac Hall on Saturday, Jan. 26.

Once again it was Co-Capt. Frankie Zoltek who paced the Mohawks with 22 markers. Also in double figures were Bruce Gallagher with 15, Joe Spinazola with 12 and Jim Chenail with 10. Coach Jarck used 12 men in all, giving the starters a rest after the lead started to zoom.

The game was marred by many fouls, 40 in all, 20 on each side.

Soccer Team

In the fall of 1959 a new varsity sport was added to the already overtaxed, basketball-burdened M.A.A. budget. The new sport, Soccer, attracted a small, inexperienced, but certainly enthusiastic group of athletes. They soon found, much to their dismay, that a soccer field is some 110 yards long, necessitating a vigorous physical-fitness program. Nevertheless five freshmen joined the squad, swelling the ranks of the participants to the required minimum of eleven men. These five men were Bob Mularczyk, Dave Scales, Dick Jennings, Rick Coleman, and Jack Gallivan. The fabled "iron men" squad of '59 concluded the season with a respectable record . . . 0-8.

The following season an influx of fresh personnel plus the more experienced returnees provided the necessary depth for a more successful season. The team compiled a 2-8 mark.

By the end of the successful 1962 season, soccer appears to have a bright future at North Adams.

Windham—1963.

Basketball

The basketball season of 1959-60 commenced with the dedication of a spunk-new gym and an opening game loss to powerful Salem State College. Five freshmen made the team—Jim Archey, Joe Spinazola, Dick Jennings, Bob Mularczyk and Jack Dietalevi.

This was primarily a rebuilding year with new personnel and a new coach, Mr. Jarck. The team finished with a solid 12-5 record that was indicative of the rise in power of North Adams' basketball. The year proved to be a foundation year for our first championship team.

In our sophomore year, the added freshmen strength plus the loss of only one senior, resulted in a core of experienced ballplayers possessing the necessary familiarity with one another, to develop into the fine championship team. The starting five consisted of Jim Archey, George St. Pierre, Fred LaFave, Joe Zavatterro, and Billy McKeever. Zavatterro graduated in January and sophomore "jumping jack" Joe Spinazola took over the vacated spot in the lineup.

In early March of 1961 the first round of championship play-off games was held in the Hoosac gym. North Adams took its opening round game for the Northern Division title by swamping Plymouth State. Worcester State was next and was beaten with surprising ease, as North Adams completed the season with a glittering 21-3 record and the New England Conference Championship.

Sporting new uniforms, jackets and key-chains, the team of 1961-62 was somewhat handicapped by the loss of five of the top eight players of the previous season. Once again a rebuilding job was necessary and newcomers Tim Carroll, Frank Zoltek, Paul Perachi, Bruce Gallagher and George Fitzpatrick provided a wealth of talent. With a 15-7 record we entered the playoffs, beating Castleton in the first round only to be out-classed by the fantastic shooting of Gorham State College in Portland, Maine.

In this our senior year, only three members of the class remained with the squad. Bob Mularczyk and Dick Jennings failed to return as did one graduating senior of the previous June. Playing their last year of college basketball were Paul Perachi, Jim Archey and Joe Spinazola. The team was outstanding against strong competition and completed the season with a fine record of 20-3. However, Gorham State floored substantially the same top-flight team of '62 and again downed North Adams for the Northern Division crown.

Fitchburg State College

During the past few years we have seen a meteoric rise in both caliber of play and prestige of North Adams' basketball teams. We have witnessed such innovations as the new gymnasium (a fine, but long playing surface) and a switch from the nick-name "Profs" to the more appropriate "Mohawks". North Adams' teams now travel in the relative comfort of chartered buses, some 3500 miles a year. The opposition throughout the league has improved greatly and the "Mohawks" this year played to a total attendance of 8500 fans. A good deal of the added prestige is due to the enlarged and ambitious publicity coverage of recent years.

We are happy and proud to have participated in the sports program at North Adams. We hope that improvements will continue to be made in the future. In particular, we feel that there is now a definite need for a full-time trainer to be added to the sports staff. The program has been enlarged to the point where almost a quarter of the male population of the school takes an active part.

Through the years we have seen many men sustain severe injuries that may have prevented or minimized had there been proper equipment and a competent trainer on hand.

Baseball

The baseball team, here at North Adams, has been a sorry lot, not because of talent, but because of inadequate equipment. Many an infielder was worried about bending over too sharply and many a fleet-footed base runner thought twice before sliding into second. The lack of adequate equipment, however, never took any luster out of our players. As underdogs in many a game, the boys played hard against big odds and nearly every home game they won or went down expending every ounce of fight before the usual poor crowds. Every player had to just about fight for himself at practice. Natural ability every player had and needed since a full time coach was not to be had. The boys worked together as much as they could. During a game this unity paid off in squeeze bunts, double stealing and in double plays.

Every away game was filled with adventure through inadequate facilities. This meant traveling by convoy non-stop to destination, and dressing in drafty dressing rooms.

The names we will first remember as stand outs on the team are: Joe Santacroce, Bill Ostrander, Bill Mitchell and Jack Gallivan. Others include Harold Williams, Jim Meaney, Pete Morrill, Frank Zoltek, Roger Goodell, John Mozden and many others. Names of our past include Buddy Pellerin, Joe Zavatterro, Butch LeClair, Don Ziter, Fred LaFave and Tom Condron.

Mr. Duffy assisted player-coach Joe Zavatterro, Buddy Pellerin, and Don Ziter for three successive years. His enthusiasm and interest inspired the boys many times.

At last, we obtained a full time baseball coach. Mr. Wolfe is a needed essential and under such capable supervision the future teams should go far in ability as well as in the win column.

We hope that in the years to come, a greater following will come about, a bus for transportation would be provided and new equipment would become an annual commodity.
